Gentlemen:-

I am somewhat surprised at the expressions of Mr. Freeman in regard to his indebtedness to us. In place of that it should be conscience money with him, as he has been treated very well by us. If necessary, I shall come on to Philadelphia and interview Mr. Freeman in reference to this matter unless he pays the note promptly. In fact, he secured that money under false pretenses, referring to his brother-in-law in Harvey Fisk's, saying that at any time he wanted the money he could go around to his brother-in-law and collect * and pay me.
same. * Kindly use all means necessary to collect same, and we fully authorize you in the matter.

Yours truly,

Gentlemen:-

Yours of the 27th. inst. received and contents noted. Mr. Freeman's statements are entirely unfounded, as he always made his price for accommodation himself. I do not wish to have anything to say to a young man to retard his progress in life, as I am an old man, therefore I should wish to leave him to other hands. As far as protesting the note, it is not necessary as he is an absconder from New York, as he will be from Philadelphia in a short time. His principal business is kiting checks and I question whether he can get any reference in New York or Philadelphia of a responsible nature. When the note was due it could not be protested as he he absconded and did not leave his address with anybody and we could not find him for a year or so. He will pay if he has the money and is forced properly.

Very truly yours,

James Walsh

Mr. Freeman would protest within always keeping it not paid when due at my office. he would go around to his Brother in Law at Harry Links & Co. and get the money Mr.
